DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

1. Claims 1 and 16 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipate by Chen (US 2002/0077104).

As to claim 1, Chen teaches for use a wireless communication system comprising at least two base stations (figure 4, 32, 34) and a mobile station (38), an apparatus for providing rescue channel communications between least base stations said wireless communication system, said apparatus comprising:

rescue base station (34 and paragraph 0079) that said mobile station that capable of communicating capable of providing rescue channel and for said mobile station;

source base station (32 and paragraph 0079) that capable said mobile station and with said rescue base station and that capable of sending messages said rescue base station establish rescue channel from said source mobile station through said rescue base station of communicating.

As to claim 16, the claim is a method claim of claim 1; therefore, the claim is interpreted and rejected as set forth as to claim 1.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-15, 17-30 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

As to claims 2 and 17, the teaching of above prior art fails to teach the source base station is capable of sending an A7 handoff request message to said rescue base station to establish said rescue channel for said mobile station.

Dependent claims 3-15, 18-30 are allowable for the same reason.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Chen et al (US 2002/0068569) teaches method and apparatus for flexible call recovery in a wireless communication system.

Chen et al (US 2002/0090965) teaches method and apparatus for power level adjustment in a wireless communication system.
